 Subject: NIH eRA Commons: Commons IAR Reviewer Invitation

Dear Reviewer:

This is a system-generated invitation to the NIH eRA Commons Internet Assisted Review (IAR) website in connection with your participation on Special Emphasis Panel/Initial Review Group 2004/05 ZRG1 RES-D (03), scheduled for 02/26/2004-02/26/2004.

To submit your preliminary written reviews electronically, you will need to log on to the NIH eRA Commons Internet Assisted Review (IAR) website with a user name and password. To establish that user name and password, we have set up a special URL (address on the Internet) that is unique to you.

Please visit this web site to create your account no later than 1 week before your reviews are due. Open your Web browser and go to the URL <https://commons.era.nih.gov/commons/i.do?code=0e145ec7aa08f5f9>

(You can copy and paste this address into the "Location" window of your browser, and press Enter. If the url doesn't work, make sure it is complete and hasn't been broken over multiple lines. If the url spans more than one line make sure you are entering all of it in the location window of your browser and that there are no spaces in the address.) Follow the instructions on the screen to enter information about yourself and select your user name and password. Our policy states that passwords must be at least 8 characters in length and contain letters, numbers and special characters. You will also be asked to verify the public information that NIH has on file to ensure your information is both accurate and complete.

After submitting your registration request, you should receive an email within 2 - 3 business days indicating that your account is active. This email will contain the url for the NIH eRA Commons web site. Please note, you cannot use IAR until your account is active.

If you have questions or problems setting up your account, please call or email the NIH eRA Helpdesk at 301-402-7469 or 866-504-9552 or commons@od.nih.gov.

Thank you for your time and effort.

Sincerely,

Thank you for completing the NIH Commons Account Creation process. Once the NIH has validated that all of your previous NIH involvement is associated with your new account, we notify you that your account is active. This process usually takes two business days. IMPORTANT: You will not be able to log into the NIH Commons until your account is active. Initially, you will be given the privilege to participate in Internet Assisted Review (IAR) meetings. If you are also a Principal Investigator (PI) you will not have access to your Grants and Grant Applications within the NIH Commons until 1) your institution has been registered with the NIH Commons (see Registered Commons Institutions) and 2) a Business Official at that institution affiliates your account to their institution.

While you await activation of your IAR account, you may review the current NIH Commons functionality now available within our Help System.

As you begin to get acquainted with the NIH Commons, visit the Commons Support Page to review the latest notes, tips, tutorials and upcoming functionality. To become familiar with Internet Assisted Review (IAR) please see the IAR section on the Commons Support Page which contains a few resources to assist you. The IAR Tutorial is a very detailed step-by-step graphical tutorial that will walk you through using all aspects of IAR. If you are familiar with the pre-meeting peer review process and using web-based systems, you may want to skip to the IAR Quick Start. This is a 4-page guide to give you an overview of the main features of IAR. The Reviewer User Guide is a textual guide to using IAR.

We are hopeful that the NIH Commons will become a valuable tool for you to use. If you have any questions or suggestions on how we may provide better service, please let us know by emailing us at commons@od.nih.gov. Be sure to state "Commons Suggestion" in the subject line so that we route it to the appropriate personnel.

Welcome.
